

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIONS

BURN CELL RESEARCH AND EDUCATION

WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 2022 | OMAHA, NEBRASKA

8–10 a.m.

Bridging the gap between fire investigators and insurance professionals

Objective of fire investigations | NFPA 921 | NFPA 1033 | Fire terminology

10:15 a.m.–noon

Bridging the gap between fire investigators and insurance professionals, continued

Scientific method of fire investigation | Origin and cause determination

Noon–1 p.m.

Lunch provided Paul Davis

1–5 p.m.

Live burn demonstrations — Fire dynamics, thermometry, fire growth, extinguishment and ventilation, and competent ignitions

- Living room: Effects of sprinkler systems in residential dwellings (electrical even with potential subrogation)
- Bedroom: Arson incendiary fire with ignitable liquids
- Shop: Safe storage of combustible materials (accidental self-heating fire)
- High-density polyethylene paneling (HDPE): Based on testing and actual claims (combustibility of HDPE when applied to walls)

Location:

Gretna Fire Department — Tiburon Station

10309 S. 168th St., Omaha, Neb. 63136

SPONSORED BY

JONESGROUP
INSURANCE | FINANCIAL SERVICES

REGISTRATION FORM

Fill out form and email to burncell@grinnellmutual.com or print and fax to 877-885-1022 before July 13.

Registration is required to attend.

NAME:

EMAIL:

COMPANY:

ADDRESS:

CITY/ZIP:

PHONE:

COST: Registration is free and includes lunch and a certificate of completion.

Participants are encouraged to bring lawn chairs, as bleachers may not be available.